

Croatia Grasevina, Kvalitetno Vino 2020

Product Images

Description

This has an attractive, floral nose with good fresh fruit on the palate, including touches of pear and plenty of juicy character. Grasevina is the name that Croatia is now giving to the grape that used to be Welsch Riesling.

There's nothing "new" about Croatian wines, but there has been a change of attitude towards them among British wine importers. That's good news for fans of juicy, fresh, aromatically vivacious white wines such as this, made from the grasevina grape (AKA welsch riesling).

David Williams, The Guardian, 17th January 2022

Fresh and fragrant, with floral, quince and peach lightly dusted with nuts and spicy earth and an appetising, slightly chewy, oily texture. Christmas anorak fact: the Graševina grape used to be known as Welsch Riesling. 12%

... from the runner up in the Decanter Wine Retailer Awards, Tanners. It is a white wine with a difference. It is the Croatica Grasevina. It's under a tenner, it's just really lovely, it's full of apple fruit and really easy drinking, and a bit different.

Susie Barrie MW and Peter Richards MW, Wine Blast with Susie and Peter Podcast, 6th October 2021

Fruity, fragrant, aromatic, like a cross between sauvignon blanc and riesling. Would be good with Thai and other south-east Asian food.

Fiona Beckett, The Guardian, 8th October 2021

I also loved Croatica Graševina 2020 Slavonia, Croatia, an aromatic, floral white made from the indigenous graševina grape – it tastes of star fruit and quince.
