Product Images

Description

The apples that are distilled to make this Calvados are all hand-harvested. Various varieties of apples are used, some bitter, some sweet and some acidic, to give perfect balance in the Calvados. The result is complex and rich.

Press Reviews	One of my favourite holiday treats is to pour a shot of calvados into a still-warm cup of drained coffee. This heady example from the Dupont family , the prouct of hand-harvested apples, is pale yet golden, rich on the nose and pleasantly biting on the finish.
